DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-53, drawn to systems for active electronic control of arrays, classified in class 422, subclass 68.1. If this Group is elected, then the below summarized specie election is also required.
- II. Claim 54, drawn to methods of driving an array wherein the row unit cell output is sent via a column selector, classified in class 435, subclass 286.2. If this Group is elected, then the below summarized specie election is also required.
- III. Claim 55, drawn to methods of selectively controlling the electrical characteristics of an array or electrodes wherein column only activation is driven by an output value on the column, classified in class 435, subclass 286.1. If this Group is elected, then the below summarized specie election is also required.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

SPECIE ELECTION REQUIREMENT APPLICABLE TO ALL GROUPS I - III:

Specie A: Row and column selection which is external to the array

Specie B: Row and column selection which is non-external (i.e., internal) to the array.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 22-35 (Group I), 54 (Group II), and 55 (Group III) are generic to the above listed species. The above species are distinct because on array or "onchip" type control or row and column selection is generally separately manufactured into an array or microchip and greatly adds complications of manufacture and use regarding design etc.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35

U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the reasons already set forth above regarding the specie election and regarding the following reasons set forth corresponding to the restriction Groups:

The inventions of Groups II and III versus Group I are related as processes and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case each of the processes/methods of Groups II and III can be and are practiced by another materially different apparatus wherein for Group II the row unit cell output is sent from a column selector and for Group III the columns only are cited as activated which both Groups' limitations are not present in the apparatus of Group I which cites not column versus row cell output requirement nor column only operation since all of the apparatus claims in Group I have both row and column control and corresponding limitations.

The methods of Groups II and III are distinct because each is directed to specifically different practices as summarized above. Group II to column then row output value sending and Group III is directed to column only activation practice.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Papers related to this application may be submitted to Technical Center 1600 by facsimile transmission. Papers should be faxed to Technical Center 1600 via the PTO Fax Center located in Crystal Mall 1. The faxing of such papers must conform with the notices published in the Official Gazette, 1096 OG 30 (November 15, 1988), 1156 OG 61 (November 16, 1993), and 1157 OG 94 (December 28, 1993)(See 37 CFR § 1.6(d)).
